

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO ATTEND A MURDER MYSTERY PARTY...

HOSTED BY:

YOU WILL PLAY THE ROLE OF:

DATE:

TIME:

SCENE OF THE CRIME:

RSVP:

Now, head over to www.yourmysteryparty.com/y2kbug for costume suggestions, the game trailer, synopsis, and more!

Guest List

Sutton Depp Hollywood Icon

A former teen idol from the eighties, Sutton Depp is an American film star, comedian, and musician. There's hardly a talent that Sutton doesn't possess. For that reason, Sutton has risen to the top of the Hollywood elite by landing starring roles in Blockbuster films and playing lead guitar for a famous band named Savage Pogs.

Landyn Cobain Rock Star

Landyn Cobain rose to fame soon after leaving a rural trailer park in Fargo, North Dakota. Landyn set out as a traveling hitchhiker playing music in dive bars until stumbling upon a Hollywood music producer named Mr. Biggie, who was visiting family in Houma, Louisiana. Mr. Biggie enjoyed Landyn's performance, so he signed the aspiring rock star to a deal with Pony Records. Today, Landyn sells out big venues across the nation and is touted as one of the most famous rock stars alive.

Sloan Campbell Fashion Icon

The who's who of Hollywood is always spotted wearing pieces of Sloan Campbell's fashion line. Sloan's designs are haughty, expensive, and outrageous, but celebs can't get enough of them. Sloan works around the clock to keep the designs fresh and to keep up with the custom orders from the uber-wealthy. Most of the garments parading down the red carpets of Hollywood are from Campbell Collection.

Baylor Barrymore Hollywood Icon

Baylor Barrymore's face has graced the small and big screen since Baylor was a baby. A child of two maniacal stage parents, Baylor has done voice acting for cartoons, roles in television series and kid's shows, parts in feature films, and even gigs on Broadway. Baylor was homeschooled, and for this reason – is quite antisocial and socially awkward. Baylor doesn't know how to interact with others without a script.

Memphis Moss Celebrity Stylist

Memphis Moss delivers looks on the red carpet with the element of surprise. Memphis is famous for capturing the essence of movie star magic from Old Hollywood timeless looks to dramatic feather ensembles. The paparazzi huddled along the red carpets can usually tell who styled the celebrity on the other side of their lens.

Wren Aniston Hollywood Icon

Wren Aniston is one of the nicest celebrities in Hollywood. Wren got a start in the industry with low-budget horror flicks of the eighties, and now, Wren's face makes a weekly appearance on the popular television sitcom Fright Nights. Wren has also landed roles in hit movies but prefers to live a calmer life with the regular spot on television.

Sterling Howser Teenage Neurosurgeon

A child prodigy with a genius intellect and a photographic memory - this physician was practicing medicine by the age of fourteen. Sterling is working as a resident neurosurgeon at Palmview Medical Center in Los Angeles but lives at home with a doting mother and strict father. Sterling has treated many of the stars of Hollywood. For that reason, Sterling's always invited to the most exclusive events.

Briar Jackson
CEO, Janko Games

Briar Jackson is an American business whiz and the current CEO of Janko Games of America. Before working for the gaming industry, Briar held various positions with major corporations, such as Freedo Lay Food Company, Proxy & Gambler, and GNP Automobile Company. Briar has been quite the job jumper in the last few years, but nobody knows why.

Francis Bennis
Oil Tycoon, Entrepreneur

Francis Bennis is one of the wealthiest people on the planet. Francis was born into money but proceeded to use the family's oil-gained funds to grow the wealth even further by founding or investing in the top luxury-goods companies in fashion and indulgence. You would never expect that a person who could buy cities without blinking an eye would be so nice and humble. Francis is a great friend to have.

Reign Spears
Pop Star

Reign Spears is an upcoming pop star who recently broke onto the scene after performing across the country in shopping malls. Reign's first tour is scheduled for 1999, but Reign is concerned about touring too close to the upcoming Y2K pandemonium. Reign is difficult to please and can be quite demanding.

Monroe Manson
Rock Star

Monroe Manson is a notorious rock star who wears outrageous attire and behaves atrociously. Monroe admittedly does foolish things for shock value and loves to land a front-page spot in the trash tabloids. However, Monroe has a brilliant mind and is a secret intellect. Monroe has made reliable connections with the Hollywood elite.

Emory McBeal
Venture Capitalist

Emory McBeal has three Ivy League Ph.Ds. and hails from a multi-generational line of wealth. Emory is one of the best people to know, as this billionaire is well-connected. Pompous & pretentious, this snooty venture capitalist has a reason for being hoity-toity.

Jules Eisner
CEO, Walt Destiny Company

From green-lighting hit movies to giving stamps of approval on new television shows, book releases, and amusement parks, Jules Eisner is one of the most influential people in the world. Destiny is an American diversified multinational mass media and entertainment conglomerate headquartered in Beverly Hills, California.

Robin Ovitz
Chairman, Creative Talent Agency (CTA)

Robin Ovitz has signed over 700 of Hollywood's biggest stars by promising a speed track to fame and fortune like no other agency in the world can guarantee. Robin is shamefully rich and powerful. Robin can demand ridiculous amounts of money from movie studios, as s/he represents the talent, the directors, and the writers. Robin refers to these movie deals as the Big Bang Blockbuster packages.

Campbell Ebert
Film Critic

Campbell Ebert is the most influential movie critic in history. With a television show watched by over four million viewers, Campbell has the power to kill a film. For that reason, it's rumored that Campbell has amassed an exceptional fortune from the bribes for good reviews.

Salem Powell
Four Star General, US Army

Salem Powell is a professional soldier, having held various command and operations positions until rising to the rank of General in 1989. Salem is a war veteran and served a White House Fellowship under President Nixon in the '70s. In the early '90s, General Powell served as the 12th Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and had oversight of over thirty military crises.

Dr. Hollis Cruise
Research Scientist

Dr. Hollis Cruise is a research scientist for the International Health Institute – a federally funded program for human research. Dr. Hollis Cruise was the head of the Human Clone Project before it was banned after several animals were cloned successfully in 1996, and human cloning was set to commence. However, rumor holds that there is a secret underground laboratory that is still working on the project.

Ridley Costner
Prosecutor

Ridley Costner is an American prosecutor who gained fame overnight as one of the lead attorneys in the J.O. Simpleton murder case. Ridley Costner was born in a small California town with parents who both worked for the government. After earning a law degree, Ridley Costner started as a public defender, but then switched gears and landed in the district attorney's office as a prosecutor. Ridley works long hours and rarely sleeps.

Lake Bullock
Fan Club President

Lake Bullock is a fan club president for Sutton Depp. Based out of Austin, Texas, Lake Bullock is involved in all aspects of Sutton's career, including merchandising, branding, websites, and VIP meet-and-greets. Nobody knows how Lake Bullock got the start as the fan club president, but one thing is for sure – Lake Bullock doesn't take no as an answer.

Marlo Eastwood
Pathologist

Dr. Marlo Eastwood has led the cause of assisted suicide for many years. Nicknamed Dr. Demise, this self-proclaimed humanitarian is currently evading police after a recent case of voluntary euthanasia hit the national news and garnered world attention. Dr. Eastwood might face second-degree murder charges. For now, Dr. Eastwood is living on the lam and still accepting new patients in need.

Jael Winfrey
Talk Show Host

Jael Winfrey hails from New York but moved to Hollywood in search of the American Dream – to become a star. A former face on the big screen, Jael Winfrey is the youngest talk show host in history. Jael's show has been on the air since 1993, and is filled with tabloid topics, such as lousy hygiene, out-of-control grandchildren, wedding nightmares, and more!

Gray Hanks
CEO, Esell Auctions

Gray Hanks oversees thirty employees at the new online auction site, Esell Auctions. The company was founded in the mid-nineties on a whim, but to everyone's shock, it rose to be the number one online retail store in record time. Gray deals with a business model that has no precedent and is expanding out-of-control. For that reason, Gray tends to snap at others due to a lack of patience.

Dana Ford

Founder, Napper File Sharing

Dana Ford is the founder of Napper, a file-sharing online company that allows users to share each other's data from their hard drives- known now as a Peer-to-Peer file-sharing service, and mostly for mp3 audio files. However, Dana has been under intense scrutiny from the Record Industry Organization of America (RIOA). It is only a matter of time before Dana ends up in court.

Windsor Willis

Computer Scientist

Windsor Willis is a doctoral student at the University of Sanford who recently completed a research project for a prototype search engine called Boogle. Windsor has set up shop in a friend's garage and hopes that Boogle can one day become a staple on the internet.

Alby Smith

Astrophysicist

Dr. Alby Smith will not stop warning anyone who will listen that the people of Earth shouldn't be worrying about a silly computer glitch, but rather, be buckling down for the Alby-Bates comet that is approaching the planet. Alby has calculated that the comet will hit November of 1999, and that is the upcoming crisis in which everyone should be prepared.

Indiana Carrey

Professional Tennis Player

Indiana Carrey is a professional tennis player with a single-handed backhand that is so powerful and precise, Indiana earned the nickname The Intimidator. With so many titles to name from the Australian Opens to Wimbledon's, Indiana's prize earnings and sponsorships over the years have made Indi one of the wealthiest celebrities in America.

Jaden Roberts

Professional Ice Skater

Jaden began ice skating as a toddler, training with a coach by the age of three. Jaden's parents held three jobs each just to give Jaden the chance to compete and rise to the level of the Olympic games. Jaden is a powerful free skater and has won many titles, such as the Nationals Championship on multiple occasions. Jaden was the first to complete a triple axel in a short program in 1990 but has been unable to duplicate the accomplishment ever since.

Lumi Williams

Hollywood Icon

Many say that the Hollywood elite has always sheltered Lumi Williams, and for this reason, Lumi doesn't have a clue about how the rest of the world works. This star will belittle others for having less but often seems to behave like that without realizing it. Lumi is difficult to deal with on the film set, and many directors have black-listed Lumi from getting a role in their movies.