

HOST CHARACTER LIST

There are 6 optional players – all are flexible gender.

NAME OCCUPATION	BRIEF BIO	SUGGESTED ATTIRE
OLLY ORCHID Medical Officer Optional player	After serving fifteen years in the US Army as a medic, Olly Orchid ran an Emergency Trauma Unit at a hospital for many years. Justice Brannon recently recruited Olly to be a member of the Mission Firedrake Crew (MFC). Olly has never been in space before but has undergone many hours of training in flight simulators. Olly will report to the Chief Medical Officer, Bing Brown, and work in the med-bay. Olly tends to make snap judgments about other people but is most often wrong.	Purple/pink/fuchsia astronaut costume (or t-shirt).
NICKY BRONZE Communications Technician Optional player	Nicky Bronze first interned at NASA in Houston. Nicky turned the internship into a full-time position in the communications tower. It wasn't long before this ladder climber joined missions to manage the communication networks that enable spaceflight operations and research. Nicky is part of the Mission Firedrake Crew's engineering division and reports to Tandy Yellow, the Communications Officer. Nicky is known for taking credit for other people's work. This can be quite annoying if you are working closely with Nicky.	Brown, Bronze, Khaki/Gold astronaut costume (or t-shirt).
CORY CHOCOLATE Research Scientist Optional player	Cory Chocolate is a former military and private-lab research scientist. Cory has over two hundred published journal articles in the field of biochemistry. Cory made the right connections at a fundraising event for pet shelters and was offered a spot on the Mission Firedrake Crew as a civilian scientist. Cory accepted the job and soon took to the NASA flight simulators and underwent the rigorous physical and mental exams needed for a space mission. Cory will report to Sidney Lime, the Chief Science Officer. Cory takes everything that anyone says personally. Be careful, as this super-sensitive scientist will burst into tears at any hint of drama.	Brown, Tan, Khaki astronaut costume (or t-shirt).
NORRIE GRAY Aerospace Engineer Optional player	Norrie Gray has over twenty years of experience with designing and building spacecraft for NASA. Justice Brannon hired Norrie a few years ago to join the space exploration team at Brannon Industries. This will be Norrie's first adventure in space. Norrie will report to Jo-Jo Scarlet, the Chief Engineer. Norrie Gray is known for making intense eye contact with others during conversation. Norrie explains they are listening to what you are saying.	Gray or silver astronaut costume (or t-shirt).
SHANNON PEACH Life Support Engineer Optional player	Shannon Peach recently graduated with a Ph.D. in biochemical engineering from an Ivy League college, Yarley Technical Institute. Shannon is an intern at NASA but will become a Mission Firedrake Crew member, reporting to the Lead Life Support Engineer, Farren Green. Shannon is always pointing at everything – even at others during conversation. This can become a bit peculiar during long chats.	Peach/Orange/Salmon astronaut costume (or t-shirt).
VAL INDIGO Spacecraft Engineer Optional player	Val Indigo is a known prankster at NASA who doesn't take much of anything seriously – besides spacecraft engines. Val is one of the best spacecraft engineers globally, so everyone puts up with Val's antics. Val is a member of the Mission Firedrake Crew and will report to the Chief Engineer, Jo-Jo Scarlet. Val tends to giggle at everything – even when nobody can see the humor in it. Val also will start whistling if things get quiet.	Purple, dark blue, or magenta astronaut costume (or t-shirt).
