SYNOPSIS

Every Easter, the Wabbit family gathers at Brare and Peter Wabbit's home in the beautiful town of Springville. They plan to kick off the festivities with delectable appetizers and fun party games. Some family members are eccentric, so Brare Wabbit must do everything possible to keep things on track! By Wabbit tradition, a chocolate bunny will be the grand prize for the Official Wabbit Family Egg Hunt. Let's hope the contenders can keep their hands off the prize, so the hunt can go off without a hitch! You're part of the family and plan to attend the gathering. This is where your story begins.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE HOST

FULL INSTRUCTIONS ARE IN THE PURCHASED GAME

The game is organized into three rounds. This is only a suggestion on how to play the mystery, you as the host can elect to do in any way that you wish. The game rounds are designed as follows:

PRE-GAME STARTER: these pre-game starters are to be delivered to each guest before the party or give them to the guests as they arrive. There are pre-game tasks for the characters to perform. These pre-game tasks are optional, and the omission of them does not alter the mystery in any way. You will need to fill in your guests' contact information (email is typically the best method of contact) on the pre-game task cards for each guest. If any optional player isn't being played in your game, write 'disregard this task' in the 'contact info' blank.

APPETIZER HOUR: Deliver these clues as your guests arrive.

DINNER HOUR: Deliver these clues while you serve dinner to your guests.

DESSERT, COFFEE AND THE BIG REVEAL: Deliver these clues with coffee and dessert.

example timeline

7:00 PM: Guests arrive. Take guest photos and serve refreshments. Have the invited guest list available for the guests to view as they trickle into the party. Have an optional egg dye table ready for the guests to dye an egg as they wait for everyone to arrive. Once everybody has arrived, snap a group photo!

7:10 PM: The host goes over the guest instructions for the mystery game. It is optional to have each character stand up and introduce themselves to the group (do it if you have time).

7:20 PM: The round one clue cards are handed out, and the game begins. The guests mingle and discuss the clues on their clue cards. Motives will start to unfold during this round.

7:50 PM: An optional bonus game is played.

8:05 PM: An optional dinner is served. Snacks can be served throughout the party instead.

8:35 PM: The round two envelopes are handed out, the crime is announced, and the guests mingle about with their clues in the case. The investigation of the crime begins. The mystery investigation sheets are handed out, and the guests interrogate each other with all clues given to them in the game thus far. Each guest should interview every player in the game – at least once (information develops, and they may wish to speak to some players twice).

8:50 PM: The forensic (fingerprint) report is revealed.

9:00 PM: The investigation sheets (guesses of whodunit) are turned in to the host. After the sheets are collected, the guests may take turns accusing who they believe did it.

9:10 PM: Dessert and coffee may be served at this time. The round three solutions are handed out to the guests. Each player presents their solution, and the chocolate bunny vandal confesses. Allow a few minutes for the guests to mingle at the end to discuss the mystery.

9:30 PM: Fun (optional) Easter egg hunt.

9:45 PM: Another optional bonus game may be played &/or host an optional awards ceremony!

To shorten the mystery party, omit the bonus games, don't stop for dinner, omit the accusation round, and don't host an awards ceremony. Also, you can shorten the game even further by only having the required players read their solutions (or even just the vandal). If you wish to extend the length of the party, add more bonus games!
