

HOST CHARACTER LIST

There are 5 optional players – all are flexible gender.

Use all players in the main game before adding these players, as they will be contacting/mentioning all players – not just the required – from the main game.

NAME OCCUPATION	BRIEF BIO	SUGGESTED ATTIRE
MORGAN RONSTADT D. J. of Studio 78 Optional player	Born in Winnipeg, Manitoba, Morgan Ronstadt received a degree in journalism in Chicago but then turned course and became a radio talk show host in Dallas, Texas. Morgan later became a freelance disc jockey and could be heard over the air in the USA and Mexico. Morgan has also written songs for famous artists and has collaborated on a few projects with big bands in the studio. Morgan landed the coveted gig at Studio 78 but still hosts a morning talk show that scoops anything scandalous that happens in town. Don't tell Morgan your secrets unless you want them aired over the radio waves.	1970s DJ attire. Satin or sequined shirt, suede vest, 70's style oversized glasses. Big headphones as an optional prop.
HENNER WELCH VIP Host, Studio 78 Flower Lounge Optional player	Henner Welch grew up in Canada, but upon turning eighteen, moved to New York City to train at the elite school of the Parson School of Hospitality Management. Henner is one of the most proper and formal people you will ever meet. Henner will help organize and facilitate all necessary arrangements for the guests of the VIP Flower Lounge suite of Studio 78. Henner has a phenomenal work ethic, attention to detail, and isn't afraid to think outside the box. Henner refuses to use contractions while speaking and has a problem with staring. Henner claims s/he is merely assessing the situation.	Ultra-proper and glamorous 1970s attire. You don't have a hair out of place.
KEATON ALLEY VIP Host, Studio 78 Groove Lounge Optional player	Keaton Alley is the child of a long-time family friend of Hans Durden. Hans handed Keaton the job as the VIP Host for the Groove Lounge - skipping over 1100 applications from qualified individuals. Keaton is shaping out to be a mistake, as there is nothing refined or proper about this host who lacks even the tiniest shred of ambition. Hans has agreed to give Keaton a shot at opening night. Still, if there are any complaints - Keaton's job as the host will be automatically terminated, and they will join the custodial service department.	Semi-trendy 1970s attire. You can look a bit sloppy, as you don't care about your appearance.
CICEL BASINGER Bartender, Studio 78 West Bar Optional player	Known for wild concoctions served as delicious beachside cocktails, Cichel was one of the most famous bartenders in the country - having been featured in an array of food, wine, and travel magazines. Cichel is used to catering to the well-to-do. Nevertheless, the change of lifestyle from an elaborate Tiki bar on the beautiful shores of Maui, Hawaii, to the dark and bustling atmosphere of a city hotspot is becoming a bit much to handle for this mixologist - and the nightclub hasn't even opened yet. Who knows if Cichel will stay at Studio 78? Only time will tell.	1970's themed bartender costume. Big collar, sequined shirt, black apron around your waist.

TERRY MCCORMICK Bartender, Studio 78 East Bar Optional player	Terry McCormick has been secretly meeting with Hans Durden over the last year, planning to surprise his/her current employer by leaving without notice and moving to Studio 78 as the head bartender of the club's East Bar. The rival club owner, Bugsy Cain, has done everything possible to thwart Han's new nightclub opening to prevent any competition to his longstanding hotspot, the Capodanno Club - which happens to be on the same street as Studio 78. Terry is sneaky and cannot be trusted. Will Terry remain loyal to Hans? Nobody knows the answer to this, but everyone should watch their backs around this backstabbing drink maker.	1970's themed bartender costume. Big collar, sequined shirt, black apron around your waist.
---	---	--