Expandable Teams: Some games, including this one, have expandable players. The two expandable players in this game are Hilar T. O'Shea and Takey McTakerton. This means a specified player(s) is designed to have an optional team with them during the game. It's as if you were invited to a party and decided to bring along your friends/colleagues. What would you speak to the other guests about if you attended a party with your friend? You'd have the mutual acquaintance in common, so that's what you'd talk about! In other words, if the character is a comic, they can have a team of up to ~15-20 fellow comics with them. The team cards will have the information/clues of their lead player, and that is what they use to play with in the game. The expandable players all have duplicate cards, but are in the game just like everybody else otherwise. This is a great way to host large events and still give everyone a role in the game. If you are hosting a party for a large number of people, you would not want too many story lines to sift through once the mystery occurs. That's a nightmare. This enables you to grow your guest list without adding chaos to your game.

Hosting a large party with this game

- 18 unique players in the main game
- A team of 15+ comics with Hilar O'Shea
- A team of 15+ moochers with Takey McTakerton
- 5 unique players from expansion pack #1 (purchased separately)
- A team of 15+ deputies with Sheriff Nelson (comes with expansion pack #1)

Therefore, you have the ability to invite at least 68 people to your event. You could stretch to ~ 80 or so by adding more players to each team.
